BUSY WEEK

The Clearances at the Banks This Week Make a Total of $530,811.09.

TRADE A LITTLE DULL.

Whiskey and Grocery Men, However, are Having Fine Trades—Some Small Failures.

ALL THE NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Counter business with the banks the past week has been very active. The demands for money are good, and the deposits hold up well. Clearings for the past week were large, aggregating $530,811.09.

Some of the wholesale houses are complaining of poor trade while others report business heavier than ever before. The whisky and grocery men are kept busier than anybody. Collections are fair, but some of the houses have been catching a number of small failures the past few weeks. They are mostly small country stores. The other wholesale houses are escaping thus far.

Retail trade is fair. The city trade is light but the country business is good and mostly all cash trade. When the tobacco season opens up good things will be brisker.

TOBACCO.

The offerings of the week, though small, contained some of the best tobacco of the season. Prices on all grades were firm at last week's quotations. Receipts at the rehandlers were light.

MR. QUINN PROMOTED.

Mr. J. M. Quinn, a Mayfield man, but recently of Louisville, has been appointed manager of the Equitable Life Insurance company for Michigan, with headquarters at Detroit. Mr. W. T. Gagnon will be in partnership with him.

PUBLIC MORALS AND PUBLIC JOURNALS.

There is no question but that publicity is one of the strongest forces in regulating and purifying public morals. There are times when public opinion becomes apathetic; when the officers of the law, in view of the indifference of the public, ignore the conduct of immoral people; and when the violators of the law and public decency themselves take no pains to conceal their contempt for public opinion. In such cases it often becomes the duty of the public press to make known the true state of affairs and sometimes to publish details, which are as disgusting to the editor himself as to his readers, in order that the public may have a true conception of the enormity of the evil threatening order, decency and good morals. It has frequently happened that a vigorous newspaper campaign against vice has been productive of results of incalculable benefit to society. In fact the public press of today is one of the greatest, if not the greatest, reforming agency in our social system.

The Sun, however, does not believe that the recent case of immorality that has come to public notice in this city is a case in point. The crime of miscegenation is unspeakably revolting. It is impossible to conceive of the depths of immorality to which those persons recently arrested have descended. But the public needs to be reminded of the grossness of that vice. Neither does the police force need prodding to get them to their duty in such cases. The recent arrests were due entirely to the vigilance of the police force who had the case in hand long before the newspaper reporters were taken into their confidence. The court needs no suggestions; his only regret is that the extreme penalty he can impose is shamefully inadequate as a punishment for the crime.

EXCITING SPARRING MATCHES.

The sparring match at John Moore's grocery last night between Jim Watts, of Louisville, and Geo. Beyer, of Philadelphia, colored, was witnessed by a small crowd, but was quite lively. In the main event Beyer was knocked out in the second round. Kid St. Lawrence, Watts' sparring partner, and Walter Shelton, fought a six round draw, and St. Lawrence got a decision over Sullivan, of San Francisco, in the fourth round.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by asthma, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars to any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ALLEGES ABANDONMENT.

John Jones has filed suit in the circuit court for divorce, alleging abandonment. They were married November 20, 1895, and he claims she ran away and went to California.

We are not surprised, however, at the course of our two contemporaries.

Their course in criticizing the actions of this paper has ever been dictated by envy and jealousy and no one for a moment believes that their criticism in the present case are born of malice and of an intense longing to prejudice the good people of this city against The Sun. Malicious and false statements and innuendos have ever been the chosen weapons of those papers in their warfare on The Sun.

The Sun expects nothing else from them.

We are not surprised that both our contemporaries should feel the necessity of some apology for the very lucid accounts they have furnished of the Overbay case. "The Police Gazette" and "The Last Sensation," were in their time suppressed by law because they pandered to the cravings of the departed portion of humanity and printed just such realistic accounts of such occurrences as this.

The Week in Society.

The Doings of the Smart Set the Past Six Days. Pleasant Events and Personal Mention.

PLEASANT EVENTS.

A most delightful occasion was the entertainment of the Whist club on Wednesday evening by Mrs. Jacob Wallerstein in honor of Mrs. Max B. Nahm, of Bowling Green, Ky., and Miss Bing, of Cincinnati. The game prize for ladies was won by Mrs. Friedman, and the gentleman's by Major M. Bloom. Beautiful prizes were given to both of the guests of honor, also. The luncheon served was in every respect a most elaborate and dainty affair. The Wallerstein home is noted for its splendid hospitality, and the evening was one of the most pleasant in the history of the Whist club's especial functions.

Miss Martha Leech entertained a few friends on Wednesday afternoon at six-handed euchre in honor of Mrs. Morgan, who is the guest of Mrs. T. C. Leech. It was a most charming affair and greatly enjoyed by those who were fortunate enough to be there.

One of the leading features of the week was Prof. Chas. M. Davis' fine organ recital at the First Christian church on Tuesday night. An exceedingly large crowd was attracted out, not only by the splendid program bearing the names of Paducah's musical favorites, but also, to do honor to the day, the anniversary of Prof. Davis' fifth year as organist. Paducah owes much to Mr. Davis in a musical way, and he is a general favorite as well. Some of the pieces rendered were Prof. Davis' own compositions, and the organ responded to his touch as it always does, under the hand of the loving master.

It is difficult to particularize with such an array of talent, but Mrs. James Weille always holds the hearts of the Paducah public with her glorious voice, Miss Alice Compton's delightful "Talks on Florentine Art," proving to the Paducah woman whether she is a Lenten observer or not. Here you may see gathered together the girl who contemplated going abroad soon, with a rapt look making mental notes of it all, and, also, who has already been abroad, listening with that reminiscent look upon her face that tells of pleasures lived over again, but in greater force you will see that more possible she who never expects to see it all, but is glad, indeed, to view the glories from afar in so fascinating a manner.

Miss Compton tells of all she has seen and carefully studied in a really delightful and conversational way. Interesting copies of the various works of the artist under discussion are passed around which further enhances the pleasure of these Saturday afternoons.

"Dante" was the subject for this afternoon, and the meeting was with the Misses Rieke on Court street

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Musco Burnett leave on Tuesday for St. Louis to see Bernhardt.

The decision of Mr. Hal S. Corbett to make Spokane his home is a theme of universal regret here where Mr. and Mrs. Corbett have so many warm friends. Mrs. Corbett is a brilliant member of some of our prominent literary clubs and will be sadly missed in the social life of our city, where she was born and raised. It is to be hoped that the Western fever will not last, but there will be a return to the "Old Kentucky Home," which is

Mrs. George Flounoy's "Luncheon of Six" on Friday was a most charming affair. It was given in honor of Mrs. Max B. Nahm, of Bowling Green, Ky., Mrs. Richard Morgan, of Gulf Port, Miss., and Miss Wood, of Jackson, Tenn., Mrs. R. B. Phillips and Mrs. J. E. English were the other guests. The luncheon was served in six courses, and was marked by that effectiveness in detail that always distinguishes Mrs. Flounoy's entertainments. The prevailing color was pink, and the decorations most beautiful, the plate cards were exquisitely painted. Afterwards cards were played, making an order a little different from the usual, and a most pleasant afternoon.

The Daughters of the American Revolution met on Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock with Mrs. M. B. Nash. It was a most pleasant occasion. Besides the regular business session, there was an interesting sketch of "George Rogers Clark's Only Love Story" read by Mrs. Vaughan the regent, and Misses Addie Hart and Virginia Lesh sang most delightfully.

This chapter is looking forward with much pleasure to the return of their delegate, Mrs. L. S. Dubois, who represented them so ably at the annual meeting in Washington recently, who will have a very entertaining report to give of the occasion.

The F. L. C. club was entertained by Mr. Douglass Bagby in a very delightful fashion on Thursday evening.

Mrs. I. Young entertained at cards on Wednesday afternoon. The first prize was won by Mrs. Lummler, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., and the consolation prize by Mrs. Will Katterjohn. A dainty lunch was served, and the Chinese Mission," and by Mrs. Joe Gardner on "Alaska." Miss Anna Reed, also, read an article on Alaska most delightfully.

The sad case of Thomas F. Lockhart, of Wellington, Mo., who for fourteen years has been in one position a great sufferer, was discussed, and money will be sent him by this society.

Notwithstanding the inclement afternoon quite a large number were present, and were much interested.

PROMISED PLEASURES.

"THE EXPATRIATES."

Thursday was the regular meeting of the Magazine club, but owing to the death of Mrs. Maria L. Dallam, mother of Mrs. W. W. Powell, president of the club, the meeting was called off for this week.

It will meet on Thursday next with Mrs. Campbell, on Broadway.

The Delphic club meets next Tuesday with Miss Lucy Robion.

"Something new under the sun" in the way of a church entertainment, at least to Paducah and she has been rather sated along the line—is in contemplation by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church in the near future, possibly Easter week, or just before. It will be a "Rummage Sale," and here you may buy "any old thing" for a mere song. It will be held in the second story over the "Elite Bowling alley," and will doubtless command an interested attendance by its very novelty.

If you have imbibed too freely of the historical novel, and are seeking something modern, this is your book, for it intensely, glaringly modern, there are no shaded lights of a dim past, you are in the full, bright search-light of today, relentlessly exposing all weaknesses and difficulties, but showing our glories as well. It opens with the burning of the great "Bazar de la Charite" in gay Paris, and its attendant horrors, and thence takes you into the hurry of our Chicago life, you view the excitements of the Spanish-American war, both from Paris and from the crest of San Juan, the sinking of "La Bourgogne" and its grim awfulness is given in detail, and a touch of the Dreyfus trial is not lacking.

The Shakespeare club recently reorganized, has set no regular day for meeting as yet. They will meet on Monday at 10 o'clock with Mrs. Mary Watson, West Broadway, instead of Friday this week, as first announced. The club is studying "King John."

The "Guild" will meet with Miss Anne Reed, Monday evening, March 11. Everyone is cordially invited to be present and requested to come prepared with a good anecdote or joke. It promises to be an interesting evening.

MISS COMPTON'S ART TALKS.

More and more is the young woman of today given to looking upon Lent as a time to improve her mind, she turns all of her attention the more determinedly to self-improvement as well. Some of the pieces rendered were Prof. Davis' own compositions, and the organ responded to his touch as it always does, under the hand of the loving master.

You are thrown with some disagreeable people whom you would rather not know, but there are many delightful, strong, clean, brave ones, and these mostly bear the stamp of America. How Lilian Bell does flout the "American Eagle" in your face, and challenge your devotion to it! The whole book is an arraignment of those Americans who have expatriated themselves and are content to live abroad. While all the best and finest in the story are Americans, she does not entirely spare her country, either, but throws many a flash-light on our customs that we should strive to amend.

Perhaps, the most striking scene in the book is that at the American embassy at Paris were during an official reception the news comes of the blowing up of the Maine. Rose Hollenden, the heroine, a wholesome, lovable American girl, intensely patriotic, and keenly alive to the scant sympathy accorded her country by foreign lands, seizes the beautiful United States flag adorning the wall, a gift from the officers of the "Maine" to herself, and by her very bravery and beauty forces the ambassadors present to salute America's flag.

Rose belongs to Kipling's "people who do things," and her interview gained with the president is another striking scene. It is an interesting glimpse we have here of Mr. McKinley. A lover of America is sure to enjoy the book, for Shirley Hollenden, and Sterling Townshend, the hero, are splendid types of the American man. You will not be proud, though, of the failure of 193 Americans to sing "The Star Spangled Banner," while only 16 English make the air ring, with "God is with us."
